Excerpts from 1958 Football Program

SECOND LT. TED RINGER (Center Coach)—In his first year as coach, Ted was last year's starting center for the Quantico Marines. He played college football at Northwestern University where he captained the "Wildcats" in his senior year. The lieutenant is also a veteran of the North-South and Senior Bowl duels.

CAPTAIN BOB MC EROY (Assistant Head Coach)—Promoted to his present job after two years as tackle coach with the Quantico Marines, Bob was a star end at the Naval Academy. On the great 1950 Quantico club, he was the favorite receiver of quarterback Eddie LeBaron, he was named to the All-Marine and All-Navy teams of 1947-50.

CAPTAIN WIT BACAUSKAS (Line Coach)—Wit was on All-East and All-Ivy guard when he played at the University of Colorado in 1950 while attending East School, he was a starting berth as guard with the Quantico Marines and the following year was named to the All-Marine team for his play at Camp Lejeune. This is his second season as line coach for Quantico and he also has a year's experience as player-coach of the Edman, N. C., Air Station team.

MAJOR BEN MOORE (Head-Rail Coach)—Back for his second year as backfield coach for the Quantico Marines, Major Moore adds another chapter to his football career at Marine Corps School. Ben's first appearance here was in 1948 as a halfback, a position he held for three years. In 1948-49 he was rooming the backfield for Annapolis. He attended Mississippi College and the University of Texas prior to his appointment to the academy in 1944. The Major, also a dash man, coached the Quantico track team to a successful season this spring.

MAJOR TONY MESSINA (Assistant Backfield Coach)—This will be the first season for the major as a coach at Quantico, however, he brings two years experience from Fortis Island where he was on the staff in 1947-50 season. He played college ball both at College of Pacific and the University of California. Major Messina can be remembered by many as the place-kicking artist for the 1947-48 Quantico teams. The Major also saw plenty of action of right halfback for those two seasons, which saw the Marines win 12 of 13 games in 1947 and go undefeated in 13 games in 1948.

Sgt. Jiggs VII

Mascot, U. S. Marine Corps

Seventh in the long and illustrious line of Marine Corps Mascots, is Sergeant Jiggs VII, presently stationed at Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Virginia.

From the very beginning, there was something about the bulldog, with its characteristic pugnacity, which won the hearts of Marines. They themselves, had been dubbed "Devildogs" by the Germans for the ferociousness they displayed at Belleau Wood and Chateau Thierry during World War I.

It was only appropriate, therefore, that the Marine Corps' first official mascot was Jiggs, bulldog son of the famous Rob Roy, who enlisted as a private at Quantico on October 14, 1921. From that day to this, bulldogs have served as morale boosters at almost every Leatherneck base in the country.

Each Jiggs is assigned a serial number and a service record book, in which his deeds, misdeeds, punishments, transfers, proficiency marks and conduct are entered.

Jiggs VII was born on January 6, 1956 and was presented to the Marine Corps by the Preston Engineering Company, St. Louis, Missouri. His service record shows he was enlisted as a private on November 9, 1956 at the age of ten months. He was promoted to private first class on September 14, 1956 and to Corporal on March 1, 1957. He achieved his present rank on the first day of March this year.

Fifty-four pounds of barking good nature, Jiggs VII boasts a clean record book as evidenced by his rapid promotion.

Deep in Tradition

Sgt. Jiggs VII sits quietly for his handler Sgt. Richard L. Cartmill outside his kennel at Lejeune Gym. Jiggs celebrates his third anniversary as a Marine Corps Mascot on November 9 this year and carries on a 36 year tradition of Jiggs stationed at the Marine Corps Schools.

Sgt. Cartmill, a five year veteran of the Marine Corps, is also steeped in Marine tradition. Dick's father, TSGT. Robert D. Cartmill, Sr., enlisted in the Marines almost 30 years ago and after broken service re-enlisted prior to the Korean conflict.

Dick just recently completed an assignment as NOIC of the Combat Swimming Pool, where he also instructed swimming and is presently NOIC of Boat House II.

THE MARINES' HYMN

FROM THE HILLS OF MONTEZUMA TO THE SHORES OF TRIPOLI

From the hills of Montezuma, To the shores of Tripoli, We fight our country's battles In the air, on land and sea; First to fight for right and freedom And to keep our honor clean; We are proud to claim the title of UNITED STATES MARINE.

His health to you and to our Corps in many a strife we've fought for life And never lost our nerve; If the Army and the Navy Ever look on heaven's scenes, They will find the streets are guarded by UNITED STATES MARINES.

GENERAL'S MESSAGE

The 1962 Quantico football schedule is indeed a challenging one, listing the best in top flight college and service opponents. The competition will provide a true test of our gridiron prowess and afford Marine Corps Schools personnel the opportunity to see football at its best.

Physical fitness is, and always has been an integral part of a Marine's daily training, conditioning mind and body for leadership and for possible future combat roles while adding to his own and others enjoyment of national sports.

LtCol. Walter L. Williams
Special Services Officer

MAJOR JAMES QUINN

Major Jim Quinn, a 10 year veteran of the coaching wars and last season's backfield coach, takes the helm of Quantico's football fortunes for the 1962 season. This is the Major's second assignment as head coach for a Marine football team. His coaching career started in 1952 when he served as a backfield coach for the Parris Island, S. C. team. In 1954 and 1955 he was a backfield coach at Marine Corps Schools. In 1958 he held down the same post at Camp Lejeune, N. C. and became head coach at that installation the following year, compiling a fine 7-3 record. His charges nearly derailed the undefeated Quantico Inter-Service champions that year, losing a tight 22-21 battle to the same team that swamped McClellan AFB for the National Service Championship, 90-0. In his collegiate days the Major attended Fordham University under an athletic scholarship and played football there for present day Green Bay Packer coach, Vince Lombardi. After receiving his degree he entered the Marine Corps and has remained on active duty since. His team will be noted for their constant hustle, aggressive spirit and knowledge of the game. He favors a pro-type slot offense with heavy accent on the passing game. He is married and the father of two children.

Capt. G. V. ELLISON

Capt. G. V. "Vern" Ellison played for Tommy Prothro at Oregon State University from 1954 through 1956 and participated in the 1957 Rose Bowl game against Iowa. As a Marine he played under Maj. Quinn on the 1958 Camp Lejeune team and was a line coach for the Camp Pendleton All Stars in their 1960 Toy Bowl game against El Toro.

Captain HOWARD LONG

Capt. Howard Long played his college ball for Tulane, Arkansas State and Arkansas Tech. He was drafted by the Los Angeles Rams as an outstanding line prospect but chose instead the USMC. He has been a Marine since 1956 and has played or coached at posts and stations every year since then.

1stLt. DAVE ASH

Lt. Ash is returning to the Quantico coaching staff for his third consecutive year.

Ash learned his ball well, under the coaching of Ray Eliot while playing for the University of Illinois during the 1957-59 seasons. His influence should be greatly felt by Quantico's opponents this season.

Quantico Football History

Football hindered by World War II, returned to Quantico in 1946 with the local gridgers winning three of their eleven scheduled games.

The following year the story changed as the Marines smashed twelve of their thirteen opponents to register a .923 average for the season. In 1948 they bettered the previous year's record with thirteen straight victories.

1949 saw the Leathernecks with an 11-3 record and the following year they compiled a 9-1 win-loss record.

The Korean Conflict in 1951 pulled Marine football prospects into combat and as a result that season showed Quantico with a .455 percentage record. 1952 proved to be a little better for the locals as they won eight while only losing three. The following year they won nine of their twelve games.

In 1954 ten opponents went down under Quantico's gridmen while losing only two for the season. The following year the Leathernecks compiled an 8-3 record and in 1956, 9-3.

Considering all factors, 1957 was the worst year in Quantico football history as the Marines dropped eight of their eleven games for a .273 average.

In 1958 the local gridmen began to climb back into service football prominence as they won nine of their twelve games and developed a promising outlook for the 1959 season.

1959 the Marines had their first undefeated season since 1948. The Leathernecks met ten season opponents, defeating them all before going on to win the All-Service Championship by downing McClelland Air Force Base 90-0 in the Seventh Annual Shrimp Bowl.

In 1960 the Marines compiled a 9-2 record, losing only to Xavier and Detroit Universities, before claiming their second All-Service title by defeating the Pensacola Goshawks in the 1st Annual Missile Bowl. They downed the San Diego Marines the following week to claim the All-Marine title.

QUANTICO, VIRGINIA

GENERAL'S MESSAGE

The officers and men of Marine Corps Schools look with favor and enthusiasm upon the high caliber of competition scheduled to meet the Quantico Marines on the gridiron during the 1963 season. In face of such keen competition, it will be necessary for our players to perform at the peak of their ability.

To a Marine, physical fitness is a key factor and byword in his daily life. The opportunity to participate in competitive sports opens the door to constant conditioning for both mind and body, molding the fighting Marine into shape for his possible future combat role. At the same time he builds a lasting interest and enjoyment in national sports.

LtGen. Frederick L. Weiseman, USMC
Commandant, Marine Corps Schools

LtCol. R. A. McMullen, USMC
Special Services Officer

MAJOR JAMES QUINN

Major Jim Quinn, an 11-year veteran of Marine Corps coaching, is in his second year as head coach of the Quantico Marines. Last year he piloted his squad to a 5-2 record before the Cuban crisis forced the postponement of football with four games remaining. Since beginning his coaching career as backfield coach at Parris Island, S. C. in 1952, he has held down the same post at Quantico and Camp Lejeune and was head coach of the Camp Lejeune Marines in 1959. That year his team compiled a fine 7-0 record and lost a tight 22-21 battle with Quantico, winner of the National Service Championship by a 90-0 count over McClellan Air Force Base. Major Quinn spent his collegiate days at Fordham University under an athletic scholarship and played football there for present day Green Bay Packers Coach, Vince Lombardi. The Lombardi influence is evident in Quantico's pro-type slot offense with heavy accent on the passing game. Major Quinn's teams are noted for their hustle, aggressive spirit and knowledge of the game.

CAPTAIN G. V. ELLISON

Captain Ellison played for Tommy Prothro at Oregon State from 1954 through 1956 and participated in the 1957 Rose Bowl game against Iowa. After the regular season, he was drafted by the Pittsburgh Steelers as an offensive guard. As a Marine he played for Major Quinn on the 1958 Lejeune team and was a line coach for the Camp Pendleton All Stars in their 1960 Toy Bowl game against El Toro. This is his second year on the Quantico staff.

CAPTAIN H. L. LONG

Captain Long, also in his second year on the Quantico staff, played his college ball for Tulane, Arkansas State and Arkansas Tech. He was drafted by the Los Angeles Rams as an outstanding line prospect but chose instead the Marine Corps. He has played or coached at posts and stations every year since joining the Marine Corps in 1956.

CAPTAIN R. A. STEPHENS

Captain Stephens played wingback and fullback for the University of Arizona from 1947 to 1950 and then served as backfield coach for the Frosh team at his alma mater for a year. He received tryout invitations from the Los Angeles Rams, San Francisco 49'ers and the Baltimore Colts. In his first year on the Quantico staff, he acted as scout for the MCS squad in 1962.

QUANTICO FOOTBALL HISTORY

Football, interrupted by World War II, returned to Quantico on a shaky basis in 1946. The Marine gridders won only three of eleven contests for a .273 percentage, the worst in Quantico football history.

The following year saw a complete reverse as the Marines overwhelmed 12 of 13 opponents and won both the Gator Bowl and the All-Navy Title.

Eager to re-establish their pre-war football prominence, the Virginia Leathernecks went undefeated in 13 games and captured, in 1948, their second straight All-Navy title. The defense allowed only 49 points during the season and eight of the 13 opponents were held scoreless.

Quantico continued its winning ways in 1949, recording an 11-3 record and winning still another All-Navy title. During the season the Marines faced six college opponents, defeating Niagara, Wayne, Virginia Tech, VMI and losing to Xavier and West Virginia.

RAINBRIDGE, Dick (End, 6-1, 200 lbs., Gettysburg College) Played four years of football at Gettysburg where he was also an honorable mention All-American lacrosse player. His good speed and sure hands are a definite asset to the Quantico squad.

BEERY, Jim (Center, 6-2, 205 lbs., Harvard University) Lettered in football at Harvard and received the coveted LeCrox award for his gridiron exploits. Also played basketball and rugby. First class performer.

BRAUCH, Herm (Fullback, 6-0, 220 lbs., Colgate Univ.) The pile-driving fullback was the bread 'n butter man in the Quantico backfield last year. Improved speed and weightlifting during the off season are expected to make the former Colgate star an even greater threat this year.

CLANCY, John (Halfback, 5-10, 185 lbs., The Citadel) John held down a halfback position on the '62 squad after starring at the Citadel for 3 years. His strong running and breakaway ability add impetus to the Quantico backfield.

COE, Charles (Tackle, 6-3, 215 lbs., Brown University) The newcomer played 4 years of football at Brown where he was also New England AAF runner-up in heavyweight wrestling in 1958. Has good speed for a big man.

CUTTING, Hank (Halfback, 6-2, 300 lbs., Holy Cross) Was a big gun in the Crusaders' backfield before graduating the beginning of this year. Uses his big frame to best advantage when totting the pigskin and figures prominently in the Marines '63 plans.

DAVIS, Jim (Center, 5-11, 220 lbs., Oklahoma University) The former All Big Eight selection with the Sooners ranks as one of the most important linemen on the Marine squad. He was Quantico's starting center last year and handles all the place-kicking chores. The native Texan poses a field goal threat anywhere within the 35-yard line.

ECKERT, Ron (Guard, 5-9, 200 lbs., Upsala College) One of the most welcome newcomers, Ron was a high school All-American in Rhode Island and a Little All-American at Upsala. He is equally effective on both offense and defense.

EILERS, Joe (Tackle, 6-1, 230 lbs., Texas A&M) The one year veteran of Marine ball was voted Texas A&M's best lineman two years in succession and named to the All-Southern Conference team during the same span. He was a key figure in last year's outstanding line.

EVERETT, Jack (Guard, 5-10, 210, Arkansas State) Another returning starter for the Marines, Jack played three years at Arkansas State. His presence gives Quantico good protection in the center of the line.

FINIZIO, Frank (Fullback, 5-8, 195 lbs., University of Rhode Island) Very deceptive in size, the barrel-chested fullback romped to All-Yankee Conference honors at Rhode Island. The three-year letterman was co-captain of his 1962 college squad.

GOTARD, Hank (Tackle, 6-3, 240 lbs., Villanova Univ.) "Tiny" saw four years of action with Villanova and was signed by the Denver Broncos in 1961. He is especially rugged on defense and carries his weight easily.

GUTTER, John (Guard, 5-10, 190 lbs., Univ. of Rhode Island) Gained All-Yankee Conference, All-New England and honorable mention All-American at Rhode Island in 1962. He is one of several good "little" men at the Marine guard slots.

HATCHER, Bill (Tackle, 6-1, 220 lbs., Service Ball) Billy played at Virginia Tech and Parris Island from 1959 through 1960 and was one of the mainstays for the Camp Lejeune Marines last year. The newcomer brings strength to the tackle slots.

HAYES, Dave (Fullback, 6-3, 215 lbs., Penn State) The piston-legged fullback was the eighth draft choice of the Baltimore Colts while performing on the Nittany Lion campus. He was a high-school honorable mention All-American in Bellmore, N. Y., and also participates in wrestling and track.

HUFFMAN, Jay (Guard, 6-1, 210 lbs., Penn State) Gained All-East and honorable mention All-American honors at Penn State in 1961. A defensive specialist, he is another of the great linebackers for which the Marines are noted.

KILLIAN, Billy (Halfback, 6-1, 170 lbs., Service Ball) The newcomer gained All-City honors at Huntsville, Alabama, where he also starred in basketball, track and baseball. Offsets his lack of weight with good speed and good moves.

KNOTT, Larry (End, 6-3, 210 lbs., Western Colorado) Larry was an all-conference selection in both high school and college and has improved himself considerably with weightlifting during the past year. Has the potential to be a front-liner and can play both offense and defense.

LOMBARDO, George (Tackle, 6-1, 220 lbs., Boston University) Played one year at Michigan State and three years at Boston Univ. before coming to the Marines this year. The newcomer has demonstrated prowess on offense and rates among the better defenders.

MCCARTHY, Pat (Quarterback, 6-1, 195 lbs., Holy Cross) The honorable mention All-American was possibly the greatest quarterback ever groomed by Dr. Eddie Anderson at Holy Cross. Also attained All-East and All-New England honors and was the recipient of the Bulger Lowe Award, presented to the outstanding intercollegiate football player in New England.

1963 Quantico Football Brochure

McKIBBAN, Darrell (Quarterback, 6-0, 190 lbs., University of Redlands). One of the four top-notch passers on the '63 Marine squad, the newcomer saw four years of action at Redlands. During his sophomore year in college, he completed 75% of his passes attempted and has thrown 4 TD passes in one game.

McNITT, John (Halfback, 6-0, 185 lbs., New Mexico University) Was named most valuable defensive player and co-captain during his four years of action with the Lobos. The defensive halfback is hard to fool and is one of the reasons that the Marine secondary is greatly improved this year.

MILTON, Dolph (Guard, 6-0, 205 lbs., Service Ball) An amazing performer considering his lack of college experience, Dolph is beginning his fourth year as a potential starter at Quantico. He never played football before entering the Marines but is one of the squad's toughest defenders and rated a good bet for big-time college ball.

MUDD, Dennis (Wingback, 6-1, 225 lbs., St. Joseph's College of Indiana) The big back was co-captain and most valuable player on his college squad in 1962 and looked very promising during August workouts. He is an exceptional blocker and destined to see a lot of action this fall.

OPTEKAR, Pete (Guard, 5-10, 200 lbs., U. S. Naval Academy) Pete is an ex-Marine buck sergeant who had never played football before entering the Naval Academy. He played 4 years at Annapolis, broke into the starting lineup as a Junior, and was named outstanding lineman in both the Notre Dame and Boston College games during his Senior year. The newcomer also participated in lacrosse and was an outstanding boxer during his collegiate days.

O'ROURKE, Tom (Halfback, 5-10, 185 lbs., Villanova University) Tom is another Villanova product, now with the Marines, who signed a contract with the Denver Broncos in 1961. A defensive specialist, he was among the nation's leaders in pass interceptions in 1960 and was named "college player of the week" in September 1961.

ROCKSTAD, Dick (End, 6-5, 225 lbs., Lewis & Clark College) "Rocky" saw four years of college action, gaining all-conference honors and also starring in track. The Portland, Oregon product is a hard man to defend against on passes.

ROSS, Jim (End, 5-6, 185 lbs., Service Ball) After three years of action at the halfback slot with the local gridders, Jim has been moved to end and the results look favorable. The turbo-legged speedster has a pair of sure hands and is very elusive. He is a big sports figure on the post, participating in intramural basketball and softball.

SINGLETON, Tom (Quarterback, 6-1, 205 lbs., Yale University) Tom beat out former Bucknell Little All-American Paul Teheras for a starting role with the Marines last year and won the team's most valuable back award. A tough competitor with lots of savvy, he gained All-New England and All-East honors with the Eli and was one of the best quarterbacks developed at Yale.

STANAT, Chris (Wingback, 6-0, 200 lbs., U. S. Military Academy) The former West Pointer did a commendable job at fullback position for the Marines last year and is expected to star in his new role as wingback. A good blocker and runner, he saw four years of action at the Academy and hails from nearby Washington, D. C.

TURKALO, Steve (Guard, 6-0, 210 lbs., Boston University). An All-County selection for 3 years in high school, "Turk" went on to star at Boston Univ. The 210 pounder is one of two members of last year's BU squad now with the Marines.

URITUS, Ted (End, 6-1, 205 lbs., John Carroll Univ.) Ted was named to the all-conference team two years in succession while playing for John Carroll. The talented end looms as one of the better receivers on the '63 squad and is a good defender and blocker.

WALLACE, Jack (Quarterback, 6-3, 220 lbs., Ohio State) Jack was one of the most highly-touted players during the August tryouts, excelling as a runner, passer and defender. Before playing four years with the Buckeyes, he attained high school All-American honors and was named captain of the High School All-American Defensive Team.

WAYNE, Tony (End, 5-7, 165 lbs., Penn State) "Mad Anthony" is the fastest man on the squad, and saw a lot of action at the halfback slot for the Marines last year after 4 years of experience with the Military Lions. The speed merchant is ideally-suited for his new end position and is expected to be one of the prime targets of the Marine passers.

WHALEN, John (Tackle, 6-1, 215 lbs., Holy Cross) John was a Catholic All-American and All-East selection with the Crusaders in 1961. The rugged lineman is a strong defender and blocker. Also captain of lacrosse team at Holy Cross.

WYDO, Mike (Guard, 5-10, 190 lbs., St. Vincent's College) Mike was an all-conference selection for 3 years and All-Pennsylvania one year at St. Vincent's. Also captain of his college squad in 1962 and plays both guard and linebacker positions.

ZADJEKA, George (End, 6-2, 205 lbs., Service Ball) "Zeke" is in his 3rd year with the Quantico Marines and was named to the Leatherneck All-Marine squad in 1961 when he played in the Missile Bowl. He has never played any varsity college ball but has gifted hands and good running and blocking have attracted college scholarship offers.

The following year the high-flying Marine gridders compiled a 9-1 record against what was probably their toughest schedules. Eight of their 10 opponents were college teams. Included among the victories was a 55-0 dumping of the Bolling Air Force Base, one of Quantico's bitterest rivals during the early '50's.

Despite the crippling defect of the Korean Conflict in 1951, Quantico was able to field a football team and finished the season with a 5-6 record. The first meeting between Quantico and Holy Cross was in this year, a team that the Leathernecks renew their rivalry with this year, after an interim of five years.

The next two seasons the Marines quickly regained their winning form, recording an 8-3 mark in 1952 and a 9-3 mark in 1953. Over the span Quantico defeated Fordham University, split two games with powerful Bolling and twice defeated both Xavier and Holy Cross.

From 1954-1956, the Marine grid teams racked up 27 wins against 8 losses. 1954 showed the best won-lost record, of the span 10-2, and marked the first meeting between Quantico and Detroit University. Quantico won the opener, 20-0. The Marines and Boston College met for the first time during the 1956 season. In 1957 the Leathernecks slipped to a 3-8-1 season, their second worst, but rebounded sharply with a 9-3-1 record in 1958. The latter year Quantico played Villanova and Rutgers for the first time, defeating both by narrow margins.

The year 1959 was not only an undefeated one (11-0) for the Marines, but one in which they gained undisputed possession of the National Service crown. Quantico won over its ten regular season opponents and went on to cop the service title by defeating McClellan Air Force Base 90-0 in the Seventh Annual Shrimp Bowl. In 1960, the Marines compiled a 9-2 record, losing only to Xavier and Detroit Universities, before claiming their second straight All-Service Title by defeating the Pensacola Goshawks 36-6 in the 1st Annual Missile Bowl. They downed the San Diego Marines the following week to claim the All-Marine Title.

Quantico compiled a 9-4 record during the 1961 season, including losses to Villanova and Baldwin Wallace. Before seeing the longest win record in service competition end at 21 wins, the Leathernecks were beaten by their brothers in arms, the Camp Lejeune Marines.

Last year Quantico racked up a 5-2 record before football was officially cancelled here on October 5th, because of the Cuban crisis. The losses came at the hands of Miami of Ohio, upset winner over Purdue, and undefeated Fort Benning.

LIEUTENANT GENERAL FREDERICK L. WIESEMAN, USMC
COMMANDANT OF MARINE CORPS SCHOOL
